THE HOME GOLD CURE.

An Ingenious Treatment by Which Drunkards are Being Cured Daily in Spite of Themselves.

No Noxious Doses—No Weakening of the Nerves—A Pleasant and Positive Cure for the Liquor Habit.

It is now generally known and understood that Drunkenness is a disease and not weakness. A body filled with poison, and nerves completely shattered by periodical or constant use of intoxicating liquors, requires an ant-dote capable of neutralizing and eradicating this poison, and destroying the craving for intoxicants. Sufferers may now cure themselves at home without publicity or loss of time from business by this wonderful "HOME GOLD CURE" which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates. The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how hard a drinker. Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of Drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.

WIVES CURE YOUR HUSBANDS!! CHILDREN CURE YOUR FATHERS!! This remedy is in no senes a nostrum but is a specific for this disease only, and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly soluble and pleasant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. Thousands of Drunkards have cured themselves with this priceless remedy, and as many more have been cured and made temperate men by having the "CURE" administered by loving friends and relatives without their knowledge in coffee or tea, and believe today that they discontinued drinking of their own free will. DO NOT WAIT. Do not be deluded by apparent and misleading "improvement." Drive out the disease at one and for all time. "The HOME GOLD CURE" is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, thus placing within reach of everybody a treatment more effectual than others costing $25 to $50. Full directions accompany each package. Special advice by skilled physicians when requested without extra charge. Sent prepaid to any part of the world on receipt of One Dollar. Address Dept. E 428, EDWIN B. GILES & COMPANY 2330 and 2332 Marstreet, Philadelphia.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

We are very slightly changed
From the semiapes who ranged
India's prehistoric clay.
Whoso drew the longest bow
Ran his brother down, you know,
As we run men down today.

"Dowh," the first of all his race,
Met the mammoth face to face
On the lake or in the cave,
Stole the steadiest canoe,
Ate the quarry others slew,
Died—and took the finest grave.

When they scratched the reindeer bone,
Some one made the sketch his own,
Filched it from the artist; then,
Even in those early days,
Won a simple viceroy's praise
Through the toil of other men.

Ere they hewed the sphinx visage
Favoritism governed kissage,
Even as it does in this age.

Who shall doubt the secret hid
Under Cheop's pyramid
Was that the contractor did
Cheops out of several millions
Or that Joseph's sudden rise
To comptroller of supplies
Was a fraud of monstrous size
On King Pharaoh's swart civilians?

Thus the artless songs I sing
Do not deal with anything
Now or never said before.
As it was in the beginning,
Is today official sinning
And shall be forevermore.
—Rudyard Kipling.

THE LOSS of THE HUAFA

By M. Quad.

Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.

It is now 20 years since the marine tragedy at Valdivia, a port in Chile, and the mystery surrounding the affair is not much clearer than it was the day after it occurred. At midnight one dark and rainy night a Spanish man-of-war named the Huafa and carrying a crew of 400 men entered the bay at slow speed, intending to anchor within half a mile of the wharfs. Of a sudden she was almost lifted out of the waters and canted over on her beam ends, and something was felt to scrape along her whole side and keel. There was instant alarm throughout the whole ship, but before a single man of the watch below could reach the deck the Huafa turned turtle and went down in 60 feet of water. The suction carried down all who were on deck, and of that whole crew only 14 men escaped with their lives, and among them was not one single officer. They were all agreed that the bows of the ship were suddenly lifted to an angle of 45 degrees and that after a few seconds she was twisted to port, and they heard the snapping and crashing of wood and iron.

It was at first believed that the Huafa had struck and run upon a submerged wreck, but after a vain search for such an obstruction the idea was abandoned. Had no one been left alive it would have been set down to a boiler explosion, but the testimony of the 14 survivors was against such an accident. All were agreed that there was no explosion of any sort and that the propeller was still revolving as she settled down. As the unfortunate craft had cost about $3,000,000 and this was the first trip, the Spanish government went in for the most thorough investigation. The depth of water was not beyond the divers, and a buoy was set to mark the spot as near as might be until men could go down. It was two weeks later before the divers were ready, and then a second mystery was at hand. The Huafa was not to be found under or in the neighborhood of the buoy. For the first time in the history of the port it was learned that there was a stiff current running along the bottom of the bay, entering from the north and going clear around it to sweep out to sea on the south side. The surface of the bay was only disturbed by wind and tide, and even as far down as 40 feet no current could be felt, but the last 10 feet of water before touching bottom had the rush of a mill race. When this fact was made clear to the searchers, they extended the field of their operations. The current ran strongest as the tide flowed in and directly in opposition. The Huafa had come in on almost a full tide, and the current would therefore drift her along the north side of the bay, or so it was reasoned. As a matter of fact, however, the north shore was searched without finding any trace of her. Then a search of the south shore followed, and then they hoped to find the sunken craft in some eddy near the center. It was five months before the divers declared that the bottom was clear of wreck of any sort.

Now came the question of what had become of the man-of-war. It did not seem possible that such a mass of wood and iron, with the weight of her guns and stores and unfortunate crew added, could be drifted any distance along the bottom, especially as the bottom was plentifully sprinkled with great rocks. There was no other way to account for her disappearance, however. The current had bumped her along the bottom for a distance of three miles and had then taken her out to sea. Just off the entrance of the port the water deepens to 200 feet, and it was concluded that she had been carried into this basin to be buried under the ooze. The commission of inquiry closed its labors much more befogged at the finish than at the start, and it was not believed that anything further would ever be heard of the craft. Nothing ever has been directly, but many things have come to light to still further tangle the mystery surrounding her. A year and a half later and as far to the south as the mouth of the gulf of Concovaco one of her boats was found floating. Its gripes had rotted from the davits and freed it. This did not prove the position of the lost Huafa, but it satisfied many minds that she must be drifting southward. Three months later some of her boxed stores drifted ashore on the islands, 400 miles to the south, and six weeks after this find and still to the south some of her cabin furniture was picked up by a whaler. This flotsom was without barnacles, proving that it had not long been afloat. It was concluded from this that the Huafa was still creeping along the bottom, the plaything of the current, and the last find made almost settled the question. A second boat and more wreckage were washed ashore almost as far down as Cape Horn, and in the bottom of the boat were six inches of liquid mud. This must have accumulated as she floated or crept along the bottom of the sea, and the chances are that the boat did not drift above 20 miles after rising to the surface.

As to the accident in the bay, it is generally believed that the vessel struck a large whale which had entered out of curiosity and that in his pain and fright the giant fish had hove her up and then flung her on her side, but as no whale had ever been seen in the bay there is room for doubt. Wreck or whale or whatever it may have been, it was the cause of one of the gloomiest tragedies of the sea, and no one can imagine that ill fated craft slowly creeping down around the God forsaken point of land which men call Cape Horn without a sigh of pity for the skeleton crew that mans its iron decks.

Gobelin Tapestry.

So important are their artistic merit and historic value that no history of tapestry is complete that does not include a description of their design and execution. For more than 200 years the existence of the papal manufactory of tapestries was unknown to the modern world. Documents relating to its origin and productions were buried and forgotten in the mass of manuscript in the famous Barberini library until a very recent date, when they were unearthed by Eugene Muntz, director of the National Ecole des Beaux Arts at Paris. In the popular mind all tapestries are associated with the Gobelin factories of France.

Curious to relate, not a yard of tapestry was ever woven by a member of the Gobelin family. Immortality came to them from the fact that in the middle of the fifteenth century the founder of the family established a dyehouse which became famous and brought the proprietors fortune. Descendants shrewdly transported skilled tapestry weavers from Flanders, whose work they directed and marketed until tapestry and Gobelin became then, as now, synonymous throughout the world.—Donahoe's.

No Chance In History.

Mazzini said that he did not believe that chance existed in history. "A cause must necessarily underlie every event, although for the moment it may appear as the result of apparently accidental circumstances. An Alexander, a Cæsar, a Napoleon, are not the results of accident, but the inevitable product of the time and nation from which they spring. It was not Cæsar who destroyed the Roman republic. The republic was dead before Cæsar came. Sulla, Marius, Catiline, preceded and foreshadowed Cæsar, but he, gifted with keener insight and greater genius, snatched the power from them and concentrated it in his own hands.

"For there was no doubt that he was fitter to rule than all the others put together. At the same time, supposing he had appeared 150 years earlier, he would not have succeeded in destroying the republic. When he came the life had already gone out of it, and even Cæsar's death could not restore that."

Cured Her Sore Throat.

A lady who was visiting at the house of a friend when attacked thus describes the unique manner in which she relieved a serious case of sore throat: "I awoke one morning with my throat so sore and swelled internally that I could scarcely swallow. I did not like to trouble any one, yet felt that I must do something for it. I had read that the fumes from burning sulphur were good for diphtheria, and a similar remedy flashed across my mind. I lit a match and inhaled the first sulphurous smoke from it. Of course it made me cough, but it relieved the smarting in my throat instantly. While dressing I tried two others and went down to breakfast hoarse, but the soreness was gone."—London Telegraph.

Sleep and Dreams.

A German physician says: "The fact is women require a larger amount of sleep than men. The nervous excitability of the female constitution is generally greater than is the case with the stronger sex, and a woman's sleep is consequently lighter. Her dreams are more vivid and leave a more lasting impression on the memory. Women addicted to dreaming usually sleep an hour longer than those who do not dream, for dreams induce weariness. Any one who sleeps without dreaming rises on the morrow refreshed from his couch, which is otherwise not the case."

The Prayer Before Gettysburg.

General Daniel Sickles told a story illustrating the tenderness of President Lincoln's heart as well as his faith in Providence and his beautiful optimism.

After Sickles had been wounded at Gettysburg he was removed to Washington, and the president called on him at the hospital. When the general described the battle and the awful slaughter, "Lincoln wept like a child."

"While the two armies were converging," said Lincoln, "I went into my room and prayed as I never prayed before. I told God that if we were to win the battle he must do it, for I had done all that I could. I went from my room with a great load lifted from my shoulders, and from that moment I never had a doubt as to the result. We shall hear good news from Grant, who has been pounding away at Vicksburg for so many months. I am in a prophetic mood today, Sickles, and I say that you will get well."

"The doctors do not say so."

"I don't care, Sickles, you will get well," persisted the president.

And that afternoon, General Sickles goes on to say, a telegram was received from General Grant announcing the fall of Vicksburg. His own recovery soon followed.

A Miller's Monument.

A big millstone monument over a modest miller's grave is a unique sight near Graytown, O. The millstone is located in the center of an old burying ground and can be seen a mile away, coming down the hill.

It marks the last resting place of a happy miller of the old school, who knew not the cares or worries of a rising or falling grain market, but who ground his corn and wheat for his neighbors and lived contentedly on his small profits.

Chiseled on the back of the monument is this poem:

A MILLER'S MONUMENT.
[A millstone taken from his mill.]
Beneath this stone a miller lies,
Who left the world before the rise
Of modern ways of making flour
And hence passed many a happy hour.
He was not forced to speculate
Nor on Chicago's movement wait.
He did not care for foreign trade,
But sold his neighbors all he made.
Cables and telegrams were rare;
The markets did not make him swear.
Small was his mill, his profits round;
Clear was his head, his slumbers sound.
He envied none, he was envied not
And died contented with his lot.
—Cincinnati Star.

Matrimony In Gilbert Islands.

Women of the Gilbert islands being merely regarded as cattle or any other property, writes Arthur Inkersley in The Overland Monthly, the matrimonial knot is easily tied and just as easily untied. If a man fancies a girl, he seizes her by the hair of the head, wherever she may be, despite her protestations, and drags her away to his home. Her resistance is not often serious, the pretense of refusal being due to the coquettishness inherent in the sex. When the couple reach the house of the groom, a wedding feast is furnished forthwith, to which all the immediate friends of the bride and bridegroom are invited. But an acceptance of the invitation implies the contribution of some viands to the entertainment. Matrimony is attended by no further ceremony than this. When a husband grows weary of his wife, he simply orders her to leave him, and if she does not he turns her out of doors.

An old negro in a neighborhood town arose in prayer meeting and said: "Bredderin and sisterin, I been a mighty mean nigger in my time. I had a heap er ups and downs, specially downs, since I j'ined de church. I stole chickens and watermillins, I cussed, I got drunk, I shot craps, I slashed odder coons wid my razor, and I done er sight er odder things; but, t'ank the good Lawd, bredderin and sisterin, I never yet lost my religion!"—Blue Ridge (Ga.) Post.

Family cares and duties do not weigh down the well woman, and the children are never in her way. But when the womanly health fails, and there is a constant struggle with weakness and pain, household duties are a burden almost past bearing, and children are a ceaseless annoyance and worry.

Weak women are made strong and sick women are made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries disagreeable drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I had been ailing some time, troubled with female weakness," writes Mrs. Wm. H. Johnson, of Avondale, Chester Co., Pa. "Every month I would have to lie on my back. I tried many different medicines and nothing gave me relief until I began Dr. Pierce's medicines, using two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' These medicines have cured me. When I began your treatment I was not able to do very much, but now I do the work for my family of nine, and feel better to-day than I have for a year. I thank you, doctor, from the bottom of my heart, for well do I know that you are the one who cured me."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best laxative for family use.

There is nothing like Asthmalene. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. F. WELLS of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full-size bottle."

Rev. Dr. Morris Wechler,
Rabbi of the Cong. Bnai Israel.
NEW YORK, Jan. 3, 1901.
DRS. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO.,
Gentlemen: Your Asthmalene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its compositon alleviates all troubles which combine with Asthma. Its success wonderful and astonishing.
After having it carefully analyzed, we can state that Asthmalene contains no opium, morphine, chloroform or ether. Very truly yours,
REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER
AVON SPRINGS, N. Y., Feb. 1, 1901.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO.
Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic Asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I chanced to see your sign upon your windows on 130th street, New York, I at once obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After taking one bottle her Asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease.
Yours respectfully, O. D. PHELPS, M. D.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO. February 5, 1901.
Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma for 22 years. I have tried numerous remedies, but they have all failed. I ran across your advertisement and started with a trial bottle. I found relief at once. I have since purchased your full-size bottle, and I am ever grateful. I have a family of four children, and for six years was unable to work. I am now in the best of health and am doing business every day. This testimony you can make use of as you see fit.

THE Southern Pacific Company from time to time is issuing artistic pamphlets of California and her resources. Such publications as "Sunset" and the pamphlet "California Industries" are of great value. They are attractive advertisements for the State and bring thousands of home seekers from the East every year. "California Industries" is particularly commendable. The plan of this publication is to present the testimony of individual cultivators in the fields of agriculture, horticulture and viticulture. It is put forth in the belief that the personal element which pervades it will confer upon it an interest not possible in the case of immigration literature. Intelligent and industrious cultivators from all sections give testimony of the real value of California's industries. The pamphlet is in distribution at the Pan-American Exposition and all the large cities of the United States. In this and many other ways the Southern Pacific Company without a flourish of trumpets is doing more than any other one thing to build up and enrich the State.

ACCORDING to an exchange the meanest man on earth has been found in Kansas. He sold his son-in-law a half interest in a cow and insisted it was the front half he sold, calmly taking all the milk while he forced the young man to feed and water the cow twice a day. The cow recently hooked the old man, and he is now suing the son-in-law for damages. Since the suit was brought the son-in-law has taken it into his head to kill his half of the cow.

SUPERIOR COURT NOTES

On account of Monday being a legal holiday the Superior Court calendars went over to Tuesday. Judge Dougherty presided in Department One and Judge Ham, sitting for Judge Burnett, presided in Department Two. The calendars were as follows:

Mrs. Anna Thilo was appointed administratrix on the estate of C. A. Thilo in a bond of $5,000; R. R. Castle, administrator on the estate of Rufus A. Castle, in a bond of $300; Jennie E. Perkins, administratrix on the estate of C. O. Perkins, in a bond of $200; R. A. Poppe, administrator on the estate of Stephen Martinoni, in a bond of $200.

A return of sale of real and personal property was confirmed in the estate of Edward Lodwick.

The final account was settled and distribution ordered in the estate of F. H. Church.

The demurrer was withdrawn on motion of the proponent and the Yordi will contest was set for trial on October 1st.

Probate matters continued: Estates of G. Perazzi, James Aitken and Elizabeth J. Phillips, to September 16th.

An order of sale of personal property was made in the estate of George Gibney.

An opinion was handed down confirming the sale of real property for $1145.55 to the Santa Rosa Bank.

The trial of the action of Haigh vs. Bosworth was set for trial on October 8th.

In the action to quiet title of Eudoxia Gautier vs. B. Kelsey and a decree quieting the title of the plaintiff to certain real property was granted.

The following is the calendar disposed of in Department Two:

People vs. Brice, continued to September 23d.

People vs. Dan Scott, plea of not guilty. Set for trial October 4th.

People vs. J. Dickie. Set for trial by consent for October 24th, and a request made for a jury trial.

People vs. Walter Thompson, arraignment had. Plea set for September 23d.

Cases continued:

THE OBSERVER.

THE SERPENT ANARCHY.

"Down with anarchy!" is the cry of the hour. It has struck at the heart of our nation. Its deadly fangs spares no power however liberal and just. We have allowed foreigners of all convictions, even those of the "king killing philosophy," to found an asylum amongst us. We believed that our liberal policy toward revolutionary propogandists was a safety valve against any violence. All too confidential were we. Anarchy makes no exceptions. Like a snake in the grass it has crept among us, hatched its diabolical plots in the very folds of our flag and dared at last to breathe its pestilential breath in the face of our highest executive. A life hangs in the balance. The nation in tears stands by with breathless expectancy.

The gauntlet has been thrown down. This serpent so long the scourge of European governments would now rivet itself upon us. But one way lies open to us—but one course to be pursued. We must allow a larger sphere to Power and a more contracted one to Liberty. "To Power there must be allotted under all circumstances a sphere sufficiently large to protect the community against danger from without and violence and anarchy within. The residuum belongs to Liberty," so John C. Calhoun long ago advised. We must stamp out Anarchy by repressing it—by restricting emigration to law abiding individuals. Let us demand written vouchers from the government from which they come.

Too long America has been the hot-bed of these plotting fanatics. Paterson, N. J., has come to be one of the most important anarchistic groups in the world. From this body of malcontents was Bresci, the assassin of King Humbert. The Paterson group is an active organization. It is the working center of all movements, the trysting place of such men as Czolgosz and Esteve and such women as Emma Goldman. Nor is New Jersey the only hot bed of Anarchy. The United States is literally honey-combed with them. Their presence has been no secret. Long since we have known that they existed. But we attached no particular importance to their presence. Only last month The Outlook, in an article on "Anarchists in America," declared that our President was in no danger from anarchistic societies. "Many things," said the writer, "indicates that far from wishing to kill an American President, Italian Anarchists hope for his protection and preservation, and the same is true of Edward VII of Great Britain."

Oh, misplaced confidence! The attempt upon President McKinley's life shows us that we have nothing to hope from these people—everything to fear. "Down with Anarchy!" It is the cry of the hour and it must be heard.

LOYAL JOURNALISM.

When the news of the assassination of President McKinley was flashed over the wires the country was startled. From the Atlantic to the Pacific the deepest sorrow and the most intense indignation were felt at the dastardly attempt upon the life of our highest executive. Just a few days before he had ingratiated himself into the hearts and homes of thousands of people. His speech at the Buffalo Exposition had blazoned his escutcheon in letters of pure gold. It went round the world, so excellent was it in character, so noble in sentiment. Not to the classes were McKinley's words addressed on this occasion, but to the masses. The people heard them and read them and applauded them. The echo of that applause had not yet died away when the muffled report of a pistol was heard and the idol of the people fell back wounded almost to death. The awful news of the attempted murder was followed at first by tears and prayers for the noble sufferer. The cowardly assassin was cursed on every side, but he was only second in the thought of our American citizens. To-day we turn from the bed side of McKinley sick at heart, almost hopeless of his recovery. Pity and fear for him are giving place to hatred and revenge for his red-handed assailant. We demand his punishment. No penalty can be too severe for a man of his calibre. If he had been a crank we might have pitied him. But he is a self confessed Anarchist—a rational being who says he is glad he did the deed, but sorry he did not finish it. He belongs to a crowd of loathed humanity whose watchword is murder. He had confederates. They deliberately plotted against the head of our government—the government on whose soil they were allowed to speak and write and do things for which they would be put to death on the continent.

These frenzied people, like matches, are easily set on fire. Agitators have but to say the word and they will strike a blow. There is no doubt that they can be easily excited. They are susceptible. For this reason the greatest caution should be observed. The press should not lay stress on the distress in the country, no matter how morbid. It should emphasize the bright side instead of the dark side of life. It should give nothing for these people to brood over. Anarchical literature is revolutionary enough. The patriotic press should seek to balance its dire influence. In campaign time it is well and good for a paper to handle a candidate for the Presidency as it sees fit. The Democrat can make faces at the Republican and vice versa. All is fair in politics at this time. But after a man has been chosen by a majority of the people of the United States to sit in the Presidential chair, then it is the duty of the press and every good citizen to uphold him. There is a principle involved in so doing and the press above all should respect it. If it continues to belittle the country's chief magistrate it is catering to Anarchists and all malcontents. It is inciting this class of people—adding fuel to the flame. Such journalism must feel a certain responsibility for the assassination of President McKinley, as it cannot tell just how far its sentiments influenced the movement.

Let us then have better journalism—journalism with a more national spirit. It can do much to curb the seething masses and prevent future attacks on the lives of our Presidents.

The searchlight is on Emma Goldman at present. Carrie Nation is in the shade.

"Coon! coon! coon!
I wish my color would fade;
Coon! coon! coon!
I want another shade."

So does yellow journalism.

A Minister's Mistake.

A city minister was recently handed a notice to be read from his pulpit. Accompanying it was a clipping from a newspaper bearing upon the matter. The clergyman started to read the extract and found that it began: "Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure." This was hardly what he expected and, after a moment's hesitation, he turned it over, and found on the other side the matter intended for the reading.

"Such a Noise!"

The mother says to herself sometimes, "I can hardly endure it." Then a chill creeps over her as she thinks of the awful silence which falls upon the home when children are taken away, and she is glad her children are hardy of body and lusty of lungs.

When a child does not enjoy noisy sports and games there is something wrong, and that something will often be found to be a lack of nutrition adequate to the needs of youth and growth. The stomach is "weak," digestion is imperfect, and so the nourishment of the body is inadequate.

In such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works wonders. It changes puny, fretful children into healthy, happy girls and boys. The process by which this change is accomplished is strictly along the lines marked by Nature. All growth and strength come from food when it has been digested, converted into nutrition and assimilated. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and so enables the body to obtain without loss or waste the benefit of the nutrition provided in food. The "Discovery" contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

A Wonderful Thing.

"I have been thinking of writing to you for some time," writes Mrs. W. Dr Benson, of Maxton, Robeson Co., N. C., "to let you know what a wonderful thing Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery did for my little boy. He was taken with indigestion when he was a year and a half old and he was under the doctor's treatment for five long years. We spent all we made for doctor's bills, and it did no good. He could eat only a little milk and cracker, and some times even this would make him sick. He could not sit up all day, and I gave up all hope of his ever getting any better. Three years ago I found one of your books, and on looking it over one day I noticed Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery recommended for indigestion. We bought some and gave it to our boy. He had been treated at Hoods by a good doctor and at Bennettsville, S. C., and at Currie and Lumberton and Maxton, and was only relieved for a short time. We gave him two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it cured him. He is well as can be and can eat anything that he wants and it does not hurt him. He has not been sick a day since and it has been three years since he took your medicine."

A Thankful Mother.

"I have felt it my duty for a long time," writes Mrs. Mollie Jones, of Gun, Comanche Co., Texas, "to tell you of the wonderful cure effected by your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' in the case of our little boy, now nearly seven years old. When he was two months old he was taken with La Grippe, and it settled on his lungs and in his throat. His tonsils enlarged, and when he was two years old we had the doctor operate on them. Then we had the doctor take his tonsils out and he made bad work of it. If he went in the wind he would be sick, and we tried everything we could hear of and consulted every physician we saw, but they did not know what to do. When he was nearly six years old (in October, 1898) he was worse than ever, and I could not rest for being so uneasy about him. He was our fourth boy (the other three were dead), and it seemed to me that if he died I just could not bear it. I would go to sleep crying and begging God to spare him. Well, I could see he was getting so much worse, he was just as poor as he could be, and his kidneys had been troublesome all his life. I had read a book about Dr. Pierce's medicine. It seemed to me that this was the very medicine we wanted, and I told my husband that if he would buy some of Dr. Pierce's medicine I felt almost sure it would help our boy. He sent and got some, and we commenced with the 'Golden Medical Discovery' on Friday night, and with the 'Pellets' the next morning. We gave him your medicine three times a day and by Sunday he was able to play, and in one month from the time he commenced taking it he had gained six pounds and his cough was all gone. He has not coughed any since, and he don't take cold any more than the rest of us. He goes about like the rest of the children and plays in the cold and hot weather."

Two hundred and fifty Piute Indians passed through El Verano on a Southern Pacific train Wednesday. They were bound for the hop fields of Northern Sonoma and hail from a reservation in the State of Nevada. Walter Murphy has returned from the oil fields of Bakersfield after an absence of three months looking as slick as grease. He reports the oil boom down south as on the wane, but says that the boom will undoubtedly take a fresh start down that way in the near future. We do not agree with him unless the promotors of wild cat oil schemes can hunt up a new crop of suckers to take their bait. Like the land boom the oil boom has had its day and gathered in thousands of victims who ought to have had better sense than to have played the other fellow's game.

PRESIDENT McKINLEY DYING.

Suffered a Relapse---His Physicians Have Given Up all Hopes.

President McKinley has suffered a relapse. The action of his heart is becoming weaker and weaker. He is in a semi-conscious condition from time to time and his physicians say that it is almost impossible for him to recover.

Yesterday morning early he experienced a sinking spell. Restoratives were administered in the hope of reviving him. The cabinet members and the President's relatives and friends were summoned to his bedside.

The bulletins issued up to the hour of going to press are of the most serious character. They kept getting worse after eight o'clock.

The latest news received was of the most alarming character.

NEW CITY HALL.

To be a Handsome Stone Structure.

A new City Hall to take the place of the old ramshackle monstrosity which has been an eye-sore to the town since its re-incorporation eighteen years ago, is now an assured fact.

Plans and specifications are being prepared by a competent architect and the City Trustees expect to invite bids next month for the construction of the edifice which will be of stone and modern in architecture.

Last year the City Trustees created a City Hall sinking fund and $725 was set aside for the contemplated new building. The tax levy of 75 cents made by them the other night will add nearly a thousand dollars to the fund. Of course the money that will be available after this year's taxes are collected will not be sufficient to complete the building, but another levy for the fund will be made next year which will do the business.

CITY TAX LEVY.

It Will be 75 Cents on the $100 of Valuation.

The Board of City Trustees met Tuesday for the purpose of fixing the tax levy for the fiscal year.

After some discussion the Board unanimously decided to make a levy of 75 cents on the $100 of valuation—forty cents for general purposes and 35 cents for the City Hall sinking fund

As the assessed valuation of all property within the corporate limits is $277,487 this levy will bring into the city treasury the sum of $2081.15. This will be apportioned as follows: General fund, $1109 94; City Hall fund, $971.20.

Guaglia Acquitted.

Richard Fussell and Maurie Haraszthy of this place and Theodore Skillman and Wm. J. Minkel of El Verano were summoned to Santa Rosa last Wednesday to sit as jurors in the case of the People of California vs. G. Guaglia, charged with assault with a deadly weapon upon M. Bacci.

The alleged assault took place in a boarding house in Healdsburg on Fourth of July night, and is said to have resulted from jealousy between the two men as to who would be the successful suitor for the hand and heart of a handsome, dark eyed Italian coquette of the cannery town. In the jealous encounter Bacci was repeatedly knifed by his rival.

The evidence showed that Guaglia had acted clearly in self-defense and he was promptly acquitted.

Emmet Seawell, the noted criminal lawyer of Santa Rosa, defended the accused.

A TRIBUTE FROM THE CALIFORNIA HOME.

Dr. A. E. Osborne's Farewell Words to the Donors.

Mrs. Robt. P. Hill went to San Francisco Saturday last to purchase an appropriate gift for Dr. and Mrs. Osborne. Mrs. Hill, because of her good taste, was delegated by the attendants at the California Home to make the selection. The gift was a token of the sincere appreciation of all who assisted the doctor and his wife at the institution and knew the excellent character of their work.

Upon presentation of the gift, a cut-glass service and solid silver tray, which took place Monday, Dr. Osborne addressed the officers and employees of the Home as follows:

"In taking leave of you I have uppermost in my mind the record of your fidelity to the interests of the patients in the Home and your uniform good nature and loyal response to all duties imposed upon you. The memory of your devotion to the interests of the patients will never fade, but shall ever be the brightest thing in all our remembrances of the years passed in the institution.

"As you have been faithful in the past I charge you to be faithful in the future. Let me ask you to lay aside all personal feeling and accept with patience that which has come to us in the course of events. Remember your first duty is to the patients and you can do no higher nor nobler work than to continue your ministration to those we have had a mutual interest in, so long as your services may be needed by the management now in control. God will reward you for this.

"Nothing will please me so much as to learn that your service has been such as merits confidence and will lead to your retention in office. And now farewell. I carry with me, proudly, the evidence of your esteem and my prayer shall ever be that heaven will bless you wherever you are."

A SAD DEATH.

Body of Prentiss Hutchinson Found in the Wilds of Mendocino County.

Prentiss Hutchinson, who has been missing for two weeks, has been found lifeless in the wilds of Mendocino county. The young man left his Oakland home last month and went to Covelo on a hunting trip. He got lost in the mountains, became bewildered and while wandering aimlessly in the brush fell from a rock into a shallow stream below where he drowned.

His failure to return to Covelo aroused the fears of the inhabitants and they organized searching parties to find him. For fifteen days they scoured the hills and canyons. Finally, Thos. R. Hutchinson, the father of the young man, noticed a number of buzzards circling around a spot in the creek bed and he knew he had located his son. The lifeless body was soon discovered lying face downward in the creek. He had evidently been stunned by the fall from the ledge above and no help being near drowned in the shallow water of the stream.

The remains were taken to his Oakland home.

The sad taking off of Prentiss Hutchinson is deeply felt by all who knew him. He was a splendid young man and contributed much to the social life of our valley during his sojourns here. The family have our deepest sympathy.

DR. AND MRS. OSBORNE

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Osborne, Superintendent and Matron respectively of the Home for Feeble Minded Children at Eldridge for many years, left for San Francisco last Monday afternoon.

Dr. Osborne gave up possession of the Home to Dr. Lawlor, the new Superintendent, on the 1st inst., since which time he has been busy settling up the affairs of the institution during his stewardship and assisting his successor in every way possible, to the end that the affairs of the Home run as smoothly under the new as under the old regime.

Dr. and Mrs. Osborne will take a much needed rest during their stay in the metropolis and lay plans for the future. It is the doctor's intention to establish a private sanitarium, but he has not yet decided on a location. If a desirable site can be secured it may be near Sonoma. We trust it may be so, as he is a wide-awake and progressive man and as President of our local Board of Trade it would be a misfortune for this valley to have him locate elsewhere.

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured." Oil for the Children.

Give them oil—cod-liver oil. It's curious to see the result.

Give it to the peevish, fretful child, and he laughs. Give it to the pale, anæmic child, and his face becomes rosy and full of health. Take a flat-chested child, or a child that has stopped growing, give him the oil, and he will grow big and strong like the rest.

This is not a new scheme. It has been done for years. Of course you must use the right oil. Scott's Emulsion is the one.

SONOMA, SATURDAY, SEPT. 14, 1901

The Englishman and His Order.

An Englishman at a Chicago hotel ordered a trap. He ordered it of an intelligent looking key clerk behind the desk. Then he went up stairs to his room to prepare himself for the drive. He waited half an hour for the announcement that the vehicle was below. He began to wonder if this was an example of the American hustle whose reputation had crossed the Atlantic.

Presently came a knock on the door. "Come in," bade the Englishman.

Entered a mechanical looking man in his shirt sleeves.

"Where's the hole?" was his question.

"Hole?" queried the Englishman. "I wanted a trap."

"Here it is," said the toiler, "and it'll catch that mouse sure."

The Englishman's mouth opened in astonishment. "Mouse! What do you mean? Who are you, anyhow?"

"I'm the hotel carpenter, sir, and I've brought up the trap you ordered!"

The Englishman glared. Then it penetrated his Saxon wits, and he roared.

He gave the carpenter half a dollar and swore the joke for once was on America.

A Beaver's Toilet.

It is an interesting sight to watch the outlaw at his evening toilet. To begin with, instead of sitting up with his large, flat, ribbed tail protruding behind him, he tucked it forward between his hind legs and sat upon it. Then with his hand he carefully combed his long hair, using both hands at the same time. There were many places, however, that could not be reached in this way, for his arms are very short and his body very large, so he combed these otherwise inaccessible places with his hind feet, using first one and then the other. The entire operation was performed with the utmost deliberation and care and occupied more than a quarter of an hour, so that by the time it was completed daylight had almost vanished.

My presence did not appear to disturb him in the least, though I sat on the ground within three feet of him that I might the better note his various attitudes, for it is not often one has an opportunity of watching a beaver at such close range.—Everybody's Magazine.

The Military Salute.

All salutes, from taking off the hat to presenting arms, originally implied respect or submission. Of military salutes, raising the right hand to the head is generally believed to have originated from the days of the tournament, when the knights filed past the throne of the queen of beauty and, by way of compliment, raised their hands to their brows to imply that her beauty was too dazzling for unshaded eyes to gaze upon.

The officer's salute with the sword has a double meaning. The first position, with the hilt opposite the lips, is a repetition of the crusader's action in kissing the cross hilt of his sword in token of faith and fealty, while lowering the point afterward implies either submission or friendship, meaning in either case that it is no longer necessary to stand on guard. Raising the hand to the forehead has also been explained as a sign that the weaponed hand is empty and in an inoffensive position, but this reason does not seem so convincing as the others.

Ancient Skyscrapers.

The idea prevails that skyscrapers are of modern American origin, but Professor Lanciani declares that in ancient Rome, as early as the time of Augustus, buildings 10 or 12 stories high were common. Later they are believed to have been much higher, rivaling our most modern apartment building in size and height. It is well known that at Constantinople the Emperor Constantine found his view of the water cut off by the skyscrapers erected between his palace and the water front, though he had placed his palace on high ground.

A Matter of Dialect.

An elderly Scotsman was tried for a slight offense and was put in prison. The warder handed him a pail of water next morning, with the remark, "That's to clean your cell." What was his astonishment on returning to find Sandy, who had divested himself of his clothing, having a bath.

"Good gracious!" exclaimed the warder. "What are you doing Sandy?"

Sandy (turning round quite innocently)—Didn't ye say it was to clean masel?—Pearson's Weekly.

The Right Side.

"I wouldn't fight, my good man," said the peacemaker.

"But he called me a thief, sir!" exclaimed one of the combatants.

"And he called me a lazy loafer!" cried the other.

"Well," said the peacemaker serenely, "I wouldn't fight over a difference of opinion. You may both be right."—Tit-Bits.

Why She Wanted It.

Mr. Bowers—I don't see why you want to spend money for a new thermometer when we have a half dozen already.

Mrs. Bowers—But this one has a barometer, and barometers are so handy. See, it says "rain," and just look how it is raining!—Puck.

Sarcastic.

He looked about 7 years old, and he sat beside his mother in a Broadway car one day last week. "He's 4," remarked the mother as the conductor held out his hand for the fare. With never a smile, "Is he married?" asked the conductor.—New York Sun.

The dog star is the brightest star in the firmament. It was so called by the Egyptians because it watched the rising of the Nile.

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR.

"Something New Under the Sun."

All Doctors have tried to cure CATARRH by the use of powders, acid, gases, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucuous membranes, causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of CATARRH, has at last perfected a Treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures CATARRH, by removing the cause, stopping the discharge and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "SNUFFLES the GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE" and is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use.

"SNUFFLES" is the only perfect CATARRH CURE ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and disgusting disease. It cures all inflammation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve HAY FEVER or COLD in the HEAD.

CATARRH when neglected often leads to CONSUMPTION—"SNUFFLES" will save you if you use it at once. It is no ordinary remedy, but a complete treatment which is positively guaranteed to cure CATARRH in any form or stage if used according to directions which accompany each package. Don't delay but send for it at once, and write full particulars as to your condition, and you will receive special advice from the discoverer of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost to you beyond the regular price of "SNUFFLES" the "GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE.

Sent prepaid to any address in the United States or Canada on the receipt of One Dollar. Address Dept. E 428, EDWIN B. GILES & COMPANY, 2330 and 2332 Market street, Philadelphia.

The Moving Plant.

A very queer plant belongs to the pea family and is called the "moving plant" on account of the manner in which its leaves turn around of their own accord or go by jerks, without being touched or in any way disturbed. Sometimes only one or two leaves on a plant will be affected; at other times they will all perform jumps and gyrations simultaneously. It is observed that the movements are most energetic when the thermometer marks about 80 degrees.

Why France Lags Behind.

Frenchmen do not want to rule; they want to live. The pursuit of life, of laughter, of charming sensations, of intelligent apprehensions, of individual development of character—it may all be more important, more vital to human existence than the preoccupation to rule oneself and others, to make laws and to fight.—Stevens' "Glimpses of Three Nations."

The Single Thought.

"Ah," sighed the fond mother, "two souls with but a single thought!"

"Yes," echoed paterfamilias, "and less than one dollar. I don't know how they're going to make it, Mazy, unless—er—perhaps that single thought they've got is that papa's going to put up for two."—Denver Times.

In the Dumps.

There was once upon a time an Egyptian king, so it is said, who built a pyramid and died of melancholy. His name was Dumops. The memory of his tragic history is perpetuated every time we say we are "in the dumps."

Accommodating.

Jinks—Have you got quarters for a dollar, old man?

Winks—My vest pocket is rather crowded, but pass it over, and I'll try to make room for it.
